Overall, 56% were from outlets on the left (20% Left, 37% Lean Left), 22% from Center-rated outlets, and 11% from outlets on the right (2% Right, 9% Lean Right). The Wall Street Journal \(Center bias\) and New York Times \(Lean Left\) were the most commonly featured sources.

Percentage of articles, out of 218, attributed to a source and its rating based on AllSides Media Bias Ratings™. Content collected between August 18 – August 31, 2025. See report for details.

Based on the analysis AllSides rated Drudge Report (-0.92).

The August 2025 AllSides Drudge Report analysis, conducted from August 18 – August 31, cross-referenced articles curated on Drudge Report with the AllSides Media Bias Rating™ for each source. AllSides Media Bias Ratings™ are determined by a methodology that reflects the average judgment of all Americans. This report provides details about the methodology and how the analysis avoided bias on the part of the researchers.

Note that this analysis does not investigate whether the political leanings or biases displayed by Drudge Report is intentional. Whether Drudge Report should provide a broader or more balanced diversity of perspectives, and whether that would support or hinder a healthier democratic society, is a philosophical or ethical question beyond the bounds of this analysis.

Purpose & Methodology

AllSides conducted this media bias analysis of Drudge Report to determine the political bias of the aggregator based on the media outlets it curates.

Content Collection & Analysis

AllSides collected the top stories displayed on Drudge Report's homepage over the course of a two-week period from August 18 – 31, 2025, at 9:00am ET each day. This consisted of pulling from stories appearing above a top story (if any), the top story itself, and 10 headlines from further down on the homepage.

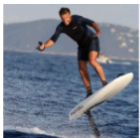

The graphic below indicates the three areas from which AllSides collected content from Drudge Report.

- Red (at the top) indicates the stories shown above the top story. The number of stories shown here ranged from 0-7 during each content collection session.
- Purple (top middle) indicates the top story. The number of articles here ranged from 1-5 articles during each content collection session.

How AllSides Made This Analysis as Objective as Possible

In an effort to be as objective as possible in the analysis, AllSides only took the bias of the media outlet into account — not the content of the article itself. For example, any article curated from The New York Post was considered Lean Right, reflecting the outlet's overall AllSides Media Bias Rating at the time of the analysis. AllSides Media Bias Ratings reflect the average view of people across the political spectrum, not one individual or group. AllSides' media bias rating methodology is based on Blind Bias Surveys of Americans across the political spectrum and expert panel reviews by a multipartisan group, preventing one elite group or individual from having a disproportionate impact on the ratings.

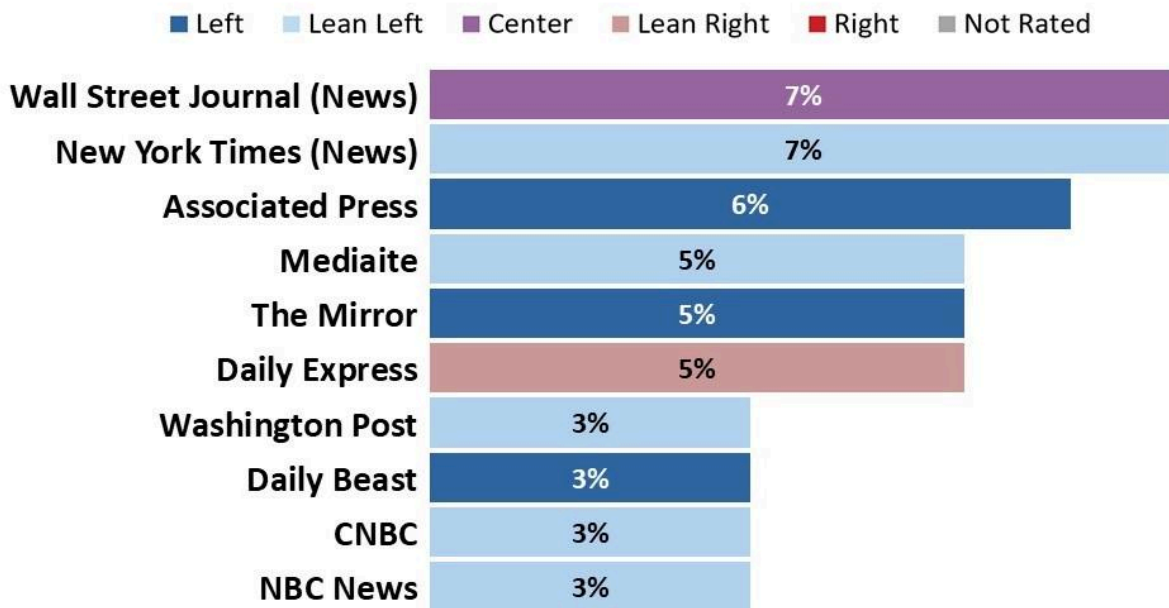

In-Depth Findings

The AllSides analysis found that Drudge Report much more often aggregated news articles from outlets on the left than outlets on the right.

2023 and 2025 Data Compared

AllSides conducted an analysis of Drudge Report in 2023, collecting 423 articles over a 14-day period.

The 2023 analysis found 49% of sources had a Left or Lean Left Media Bias Rating, 26% had a Center rating, and 10% had a Right or Lean Right rating. The top outlets curated across Drudge Report included the Washington Post, the Associated Press, Wall Street Journal, CNBC, and Bloomberg. Only one source on the right appeared among the top ten outlets displayed on Drudge Report, New York Post.

AllSides Media Bias Ratings™ of Top Sources Curated on Drudge Report’s Homepage, 2023 vs. 2025

In the 2025 analysis, Drudge Report’s curation of articles on the left increased 7%, from 49% to 56%. It curated 4% less articles in the Center, and its curation on the right increased 1% from 10% to 11%. The gap between curation from sources on the left versus the right increased from 39% to 45%.

While some of the top sources remained the same, others changed. Bloomberg, New York Post, Reuters, and CNN were no longer in the top ten sources while The Mirror, Daily Express, Daily Beast, and NBC News were added to the top ten.

Overall, Drudge Report’s bias remained relatively consistent over the two-year period.

Rating Changes Over Time

Note that while the 2023 and 2025 analyses used the same methodologies, AllSides Media Bias Ratings change over time, which affect the comparison. For example, The Associated Press moved from Lean Left to Left. AllSides has also expanded its ratings, so some sources may have moved from Not Rated to Left, Lean Left, Center, Lean Right, or Right.

Background on Drudge Report

Drudge Report is a news aggregator website founded by Matt Drudge, a conservative, in 1995. The website provides links to news articles from various sources. The articles generally focus on politics and entertainment. While each link generally leads to a news outlet, some occasionally lead to other sources, such as Twitter, polling websites, and more.

Generally speaking, Drudge Report displays a top story front and center of its homepage, above the fold. Often accompanied by a photo, this story generally includes links to 1-4 different articles about the subject matter.

Above the top story, there are sometimes additional articles linked in the upper left-hand side of the homepage.

Below the top story are three columns, which link to news stories, news outlet homepages, columnists, and more. Occasionally, Drudge Report highlights these stories in red text, seemingly to indicate the aggregator deems it important or breaking news.

Headlines featured on Drudge Report are written by Drudge Report staff; they do not necessarily reflect the wording that appears on the original source article.

Drudge Report was rated Center (0.93) as of July 2025. Its rating was based on the 2023 AllSides analysis and a further Editorial Review of the aggregator. While its aggregation featured more sources on the left, the editorial reviewers found Drudge Report's story choice and headlines appealed to the right.

A 2018 Editorial Review of Drudge Report concluded that the outlet had a Lean Right Media Bias Rating. At the time of review, the panel found that the Drudge Report often aggregated stories from outlets AllSides rated as Left or Lean Left, and there was question as to whether the outlet deserved a Lean Left or Center rating. The AllSides panel also noted sensationalist story choice and language.

Wikipedia includes on its Drudge Report entry a section on "Controversial stories, errors and questions about sourcing." In 2020, Fox News \(Right bias\) host Tucker Carlson argued Drudge Report had become "indistinguishable from... any other woke propaganda outlet posing as a news company." In April 2020, President Donald Trump tweeted, "I gave up on Drudge (a really nice guy) long ago, as have many others. People are dropping off like flies!"

In 2020, The New York Times (Lean Left) reported that editorial changes occurred before the 2020 presidential election, and that Drudge Report discontinued much of its alleged pro-Trump coverage. Some still argue that Drudge Report is among the most conservative news outlets. According to AllSides' analysis, Drudge Report most commonly displayed news sources with a Lean Left Media Bias Rating.

About AllSides Media Bias Ratings™

AllSides empowers you to understand the role media bias plays in the news and information you consume. AllSides Media Bias Ratings™ and the AllSides Media Bias Chart™ help make news bias transparent, allowing you to easily identify different perspectives and political leanings so you can get the full picture and think for yourself.

AllSides Media Bias Ratings™ are based on a scientific, multipartisan analysis, and are meant to reflect the average view of the American public. In other words, they are meant to reflect the average view of people across the political spectrum, not one individual or group.

AllSides believes there is no such thing as unbiased news, and that concealed bias can mislead and divide us. The best approach is to acknowledge and balance this bias, so that people can consider multiple viewpoints and gain a more comprehensive understanding of the world around them.

AllSides assigns a rating of Left, Lean Left, Center, Lean Right, or Right to each media outlet or writer, as well as a numerical rating using the AllSides Media Bias Meter™, which provides more nuance in each category.

The AllSides patented bias detection and display technology is powered by a combination of the ‘wisdom-of-the-crowd’ technology and statistical research and methodologies. The system utilizes multiple methods for calculating media bias, and combines them for the best results. For each source, the methodology may include:

- Blind Bias Surveys — A survey that asks respondents to rate the media bias of a news outlet on a left-right scale without knowing the news source or author they are reviewing. AllSides normalizes these data based on respondent ideology to ensure that the audience reflects the social and political diversity of the nation.
- Editorial Reviews — A multipartisan panel conducts in-depth reviews of a media outlet. The Editorial Review Panel includes people from across the political spectrum. During this process, each reviewer independently evaluates and suggests a rating for the source. Then, the group discusses individual findings, shares impressions, and comes to an agreement on the result.
- Third Party Data — When available and relevant, data that is conducted by a transparent, credible source may inform AllSides Media Bias Ratings™. AllSides always notes which third-party analyses it has taken to account on the source page for any outlet.
- Community Feedback — Visitors to AllSides.com can vote on the rating for any outlet. This feedback does not determine our ratings, but may trigger a deeper review.
- Independent Reviews — An AllSides reviewer assesses content and comes to a general conclusion on a source’s bias. This is AllSides’ lowest level of analysis, usually undertaken to give initial, low-confidence ratings.
